OHS ALERT

PROSTATE CANCER 1 IN 5 MEN WILL GET IT

The CFMEU never compromises on health and safety.

We are known for our strong stand on all aspects of OHS. We are also aware that our members work hard and often overlook their own health.

We want to make sure that the statistics are for—and not against—you.

Beat the odds with early detection: 1 in 5 men in Australia develops prostate cancer before the age of 85.

Early detection is key to successful treatment and survival.

Prostate Cancer Centre constructed with CFMEU goodwill

We want you to have a long and enjoyable retirement, and becoming proactive about your health is key. To help safeguard men's health, the Australian Prostate Cancer Research (APCR) have opened the first public, bulk-billing Prostate Cancer Centre specialising in all issues below the belt.

CFMEU played a huge part in building the free-to-the-public centre: members and friends in the industry donated much of the labour and materials.

Located at 22 Blackwood Street, North Melbourne, this is a place where blokes can finally feel relaxed while looking after themselves. The Centre's waiting room has fantastic views, and you can play darts or putt on the indoor green while you wait for your
